Chargeability of agent or person residing out of Malta.
Amended by: XIII. 2004.86.
Cap. 123.

5. (1) Further to the provisions contained in Part IX of the Income Tax Act, a person not resident in Malta (hereinafter in this Act referred to as "a non-resident person") shall be assessable and chargeable in the name of his trustee, guardian, tutor, curator or committee, or of any attorney, factor, agent, receiver, branch or manager, whether such attorney, factor, agent, receiver, branch or manager has the receipt of the income or not, in like manner and to the like amount as such non-resident person would be assessed and charged to tax in Malta as if he were in the actual receipt of such income.

A non-resident person shall be assessable and chargeable in respect of any income arising, whether directly or indirectly, through or from any attorneyship, factorship, agency, receivership, branch or management, and shall be so assessable and chargeable in the name of the attorney, factor, agent, receiver, branch or manager.

(2) Where the registered holder of a share holds such share for the benefit of another person, the Commissioner shall be entitled to treat such registered holder as beneficially entitled to such share except as provided in subarticle (3).

(3) Where the registered holder of a share has been licensed under article 51A of the Malta Financial Services Authority Act and until such time that he is so licensed or is authorised or otherwise permitted to act as a trustee under article 43 or 43A of the Trusts and Trustees Act or is licensed under the Investment Services Act, to carry out activities within paragraph 4 of the First Schedule to that Act and provides the Commissioner with a certificate in writing that he holds the share for the benefit of a person or persons all of whom are not resident in Malta within the meaning of the Income Tax Acts, the Commissioner shall not treat the registered holder of the share as beneficially entitled to it.

Cap. 330.

Cap. 331.
Cap. 370.

(4) A person referred to in subarticle (3) who issues a false certificate to the Commissioner shall be guilty of making a false statement within the meaning of article 52(1)(b).

(5) The master of any ship owned or chartered by a non-resident person who is chargeable under article 28 of the Income Tax Act shall (though not to the exclusion of any other agent) be deemed the agent of such non-resident person for all the purposes of the Income Tax Acts.

Cap. 123.

(6) Where a non-resident person carried on business with a resident person, and it appears to the Commissioner that, owing to the close connection between the resident person and the non-resident person and to the substantial control exercised by the non-resident person over the resident person, the course of business between those persons can be so arranged and is so arranged that the business done by the resident person in pursuance of his connection with the non-resident person produces to the resident person either no profits or less than the ordinary profits which might be expected to arise from the business, the non-resident person shall be assessable and chargeable to tax in the name of the resident person as if the resident person were an agent of the non-resident person.

(7) Where it appears to the Commissioner that the true amount of the gains or profits of any non-resident person chargeable to tax in the name of a resident person cannot in any individual case be readily ascertained, the Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, assess and charge the non-resident person on a fair and reasonable percentage of the turnover of the business done by the non-resident person through or with the resident person in whose name he is chargeable as aforesaid and in such case the provisions of the Income Tax Acts as to the delivery of returns or particulars by persons acting on behalf of others shall extend so as to require returns or particulars to be furnished by the resident person of the business so done by the non-resident person through or with the resident person, in the same manner as returns or particulars are to be delivered by persons acting for incapacitated or non-resident persons in respect of income to be charged:

Provided that the amount of the percentage shall in each case be determined having regard to the nature of the business and shall, when determined by the Commissioner, be subject to an appeal as provided by articles 35 and 37.

(8) Nothing in this article shall render a non-resident person chargeable in the name of a broker or general commission agent or other agent where such broker, general commission agent or agent is not an authorised person carrying on the regular agency of the non-resident person, or a person chargeable as if he were an agent in pursuance of subarticles (5), (6) and (7), in respect of gains or profits arising from sales or transactions carried out through such a broker or agent.

(9) The fact that a non-resident person executes sales or carries out transactions with other non-residents in circumstances which would make him chargeable in pursuance of subarticles (5) and (6) in the name of a resident person shall not of itself make him chargeable in respect of gains or profits arising from those sales or transactions.

(10) Where a non-resident person is chargeable to tax in the name of any attorney, factor, agent, receiver, branch or manager in respect of any gains or profits arising from the sale of goods or produce manufactured or produced out of Malta by the non-resident person, the person in whose name the non-resident person is so chargeable may, if he thinks fit, apply to the Commissioner to have the assessment to tax in respect of those gains or profits made or amended on the basis of the profits which might reasonably be expected to have been earned by a merchant or, where the goods are retailed by or on behalf of the manufacturer or producer, by a retailer of the goods sold, who had bought from the manufacturer or producer direct, and, on the proof to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of the amount of the profits on the basis aforesaid, the assessment shall be made or amended accordingly.

(11) A non-resident person shall not, by virtue of this article, be assessable or chargeable to tax in the name of an agent or other representative in respect of gains or profits arising to the non-resident person resulting from the provision in Malta by the agent or such other representative of any of the services listed in the First Schedule to the Investment Services Act, provided that:

(12) For the purposes of subarticle (11) an agent or other representative shall be deemed to have carried out an investment service on behalf of his principal whether he undertakes the transaction himself or gives instructions to another person.

(13) The activities of the agent or other representative shall not affect the residence of the non-resident person for tax purposes.

(3) The liquidator of a company which is being wound up shall not distribute any of the assets of the company to its shareholders unless he had made provision, in so far as he is able to do so out of the assets of the company, for the payment in full of any tax which he knows of or might reasonably expect to be payable by the company under the Income Tax Acts and in default, such liquidator shall be liable personally, and jointly and severally with any other person responsible therefor, for payment of the tax due.

- (b) the name and address of every person to whom the same shall belong, and the provisions of the Income Tax Acts with respect to the failure to deliver lists or particulars in accordance with a notice from the Commissioner shall apply to any such lists.

Amended by:
II. 2004.50.

30. (1) Where a person has delivered a return of income for any year of assessment preceding the year of assessment 1999 the Commissioner may -

- (a) accept the return and make an assessment accordingly;
- (b) after considering such further returns, books or evidence, if any, as may be produced before or obtained by him, refuse to accept the return and to the best of his judgement determine by order in writing the amount of the chargeable income of the person and assess him accordingly.

(2) Where a person has not delivered a return of income for any year of assessment preceding the year of assessment 1999 and the Commissioner is of the opinion that such person is liable to pay tax, he may, according to the best of his judgement, determine the amount of the chargeable income of such person and assess him accordingly, but such assessment shall not affect any liability otherwise incurred by such person by reason of his failure or neglect to deliver a return.

(3) Where it appears to the Commissioner that a person has not been assessed or has been assessed at a lesser amount than that which ought to have been charged for any year of assessment preceding the year of assessment 1999, the Commissioner may assess such person at such amount or additional amount as, according to his judgement, ought to have been charged and the provisions of subarticle (1)(b) shall apply to such an assessment.

(4) An assessment for a year of assessment made pursuant to any of the foregoing provisions of this article shall be made within that year of assessment or within eight years after the expiration thereof:

Provided that in cases where there has not yet been a final decision or a final judgement, the notification of an assessment to the taxpayer after the expiration of the periods specified in this subarticle shall not constitute and shall not be deemed to have ever constituted a reason for the said assessment or notice thereof being declared prescribed, time-barred or otherwise quashed, if such assessment is delivered by not later than the 31st December, 2007:

Provided further that where such notification is not made by the 31st December, 2007 because the taxpayer could not be found or for other reasons attributable to him, such assessment shall be deemed to have been duly notified if, not later than 31st December 2008, the Commissioner publishes a notice in the Gazette and in one or more daily newspapers stating that such assessment has been made and inviting the taxpayer to call for it at the Department.

(5) Notwithstanding the provisions of subarticle (4), where a person has not made to the Commissioner the returns required by the Income Tax Acts for any year of assessment preceding the year of assessment 1999 or a full and true disclosure of all material facts necessary for his assessment for any such year and there has been an avoidance of tax, the Commissioner, where he is of the opinion that the avoidance of tax is due to fraud or evasion, may at any time assess such person at such amount or additional amount as according to his judgement ought to have been charged and take action for the payment of tax, additional tax and any penalty.

(6) Where in the opinion of the Commissioner there has been fraud or evasion as aforesaid, such decision shall be subject to appeal under the provisions of articles 35 and 37.

an election under article 12 or, having made such an election has, after being given notice by the Commissioner to make a return as provided in article 13, failed to file such a return, and the Commissioner is of the opinion that such person is liable to pay tax, he may determine the amount of the tax payable by that person for that year of assessment on the basis of an estimate made in such manner and by such method as the Commissioner deems fit without prejudice to any liability otherwise incurred by that person by reason of his failure or neglect to deliver a return.

(3A) Where an estimate has been made in the circumstances mentioned in subarticle (3) and the return has still not been delivered, the Commissioner may make an assessment under the provisions of subarticle (5) on the person concerned, without the need to have previously notified the said person that an enquiry is being conducted into his tax declarations and liabilities.

(4) The Commissioner may make such enquiries and verifications as he deems fit with respect to any tax payable by or repayable to a person and may make such adjustments to a determination made under the other provisions of this article as may be agreed upon in writing with that person or as may be required in accordance with article 13(6).
