

Money Market Report for the week ending 22 February 2019

ECB Monetary Operations

On 18 February 2019, the European Central Bank (ECB) announced its weekly main refinancing operations (MRO). The operation was conducted on 19 February 2019, and attracted bids from euro area eligible counterparties of €5.93 billion, €0.02 billion higher than the bid amount of the previous week. The amount was allotted in full at a fixed rate equivalent to the prevailing MRO rate of 0.00%, in accordance with current ECB policy.

On 20 February 2019, the ECB conducted a seven-day US dollar funding operation through collateralised lending in conjunction with the US Federal Reserve. This operation attracted bids of $0.08 billion, which was allotted in full at a fixed rate of 2.90%.

Domestic Treasury Bill Market

In the domestic primary market for Treasury bills, the Treasury invited tenders for 91-day bills for settlement value 21 February 2019, maturing on 23 May 2019. Bids of €13.00 million were submitted, with the Treasury accepting €12.00 million. Since €24.80 million worth of bills matured during the week, the outstanding balance of Treasury bills decreased by €12.80 million, to stand at €405.30 million.

The yield from the 91-day bill auction was -0.343%, up by 0.2 basis point from bids with a similar tenor issued on 14 February 2019, representing a bid price of €100.0868 per €100 nominal.

During the week under review, there was no trading on the Malta Stock Exchange.

This week the Treasury will invite tenders for 91-day bills maturing on 30 May 2019.